

Dr. Steffen Metzger
CEO Heraeus Precious Metals

Steffen Metzger studied physics and mathematics at Ludwig-Maximilians-University in Munich as well as Oxford University and completed his doctorate in mathematical physics at the École Normale Supérieure in Paris. He then joined the management consultancy Oliver Wyman as a consultant and project manager before moving to the semiconductor manufacturer Infineon in 2011, where he held various management positions.

In 2022, he joined the Group Management Committee of the Heraeus Group, where he was responsible for the Semiconductor and Electronics platform.

Since June 2024, he has been CEO of Heraeus Precious Metals.